PART I PRELIMINARY

Short title

1. This Act may be cited as the Islanders' Divorce Act.

Interpretation

6 of 1967, s. 84
8 of 1967, Sched

2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires –

"Court" means the High Court;

"District Registrar" means the Magistrate of a district constituted under the provisions of the Magistrates' Courts Act or other person performing the duties of District Registrar under the Islanders' Marriage Act.

Application

8 of 1974, Sched

LN 88 of 1978

SI 1907, No 543

3. This Act shall apply only to marriages between two Islanders who have been married by a minister of religion, or by a District Registrar, or under the provisions of the Pacific Islands Civil Marriages Order in Council, 1907, or where a marriage by the custom of Islanders has been registered in accordance with section 18 of the Islanders' Marriage Act, and where the husband is an Islander domiciled in Solomon Islands and in such cases the marriage may only be dissolved, annulled or judicial separation ordered by the Court as hereinafter provided.

Dissolution of custom marriage

8 of 1974, Sched

4. When two Islanders have been married by the custom of Islanders, and such marriage has not been registered in accordance with section 18 of the Islanders' Marriage Act, the marriage may only be dissolved, annulled or separation ordered in accordance with the custom of Islanders.

PART II
DIVORCE

Grounds for divorce

5. (1) A petition for divorce may be presented to the Court, either by the husband or the wife on the ground that the respondent -

(a) has since the celebration of the marriage, committed adultery; or

(b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or

(c) has since the celebration of the marriage, treated the petitioner with cruelty; or

(d) is incurably of unsound mind and has continuously been under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has, since the celebration of the marriage, been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

(2) For the purposes of this section a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment only while he is detained in pursuance of any order under the Mental Treatment Act.

Form of petition

First Schedule

Form A

Form B

6. (1) A petition shall be in the Form A in the First Schedule, and shall be verified by the petitioner by affidavit in the Form B in the said Schedule.

Affidavit of service of petition

(2) A copy of the petition shall be served personally on the respondent and co-respondent (if any) unless the Court shall otherwise direct and such service shall be verified by affidavit in the Form C in the First Schedule.

Form C

Adulterers to be made co-respondents

7. Where adultery is alleged in a petition or by a respondent, the petitioner or respondent as the case may be shall make the alleged adulterer a co-respondent unless he is excused by the Court on special grounds from so doing.

Duty of Court on presentation of petition for divorce

8. (1) On a petition for divorce it shall be the duty of the Court to enquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to enquire into any counter-charge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that –

(i) the case for the petitioner has been proved; and

(ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery, the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and

(iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with the respondent or either of the respondents,

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce, declaring that the marriage shall be dissolved upon the expiration of the period specified in and the issue of the notice in Form D as provided by section 11, but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters it shall dismiss the petition:

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition if it finds that the petitioner has during the marriage been guilty of adultery or if, in the opinion of the Court, the petitioner has been guilty -

(a) of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition; or

(b) of cruelty towards the other party to the marriage; or

(c) where the ground of the petition is adultery or cruelty, of having without reasonable excuse deserted, or having without reasonable excuse wilfully separated himself or herself from the other party before the adultery or cruelty complained of; or

(d) where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind, or desertion, of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

Dismissal of respondent or co-respondent from the proceedings

9. In any case in which, on the petition of a husband for divorce, the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which, on the petition of a wife for divorce, the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence on the part of the petitioner direct the co-respondent or respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings if the Court is of the opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her.

Relief to respondent on petition for divorce

10. If in any proceedings for divorce the respondent opposes the relief sought the Court may give to the respondent the same relief to which he would have been entitled if he had presented a petition seeking such relief.

Re-marriage of divorced persons

11. Three months after any marriage has been declared by the Court to be dissolved, and subject to an appeal, if any, having terminated in favour of the petitioner, the Court, without any further proceedings, shall issue a notice in the Form D in the First Schedule hereto, whereupon the parties to the marriage may again marry as if the prior marriage had been dissolved by death.

First Schedule - Form D

PART III NULLITY OF MARRIAGE

Decree of nullity in respect of void marriage

12. A marriage is void and the Court shall pronounce a decree of nullity in respect thereof if it is proved –

(a) that at the time of the ceremony of marriage one of the parties was already married and the earlier marriage was still subsisting; or

(b) that the marriage was induced by duress or mistake;

(c) that at the time of the marriage one of the parties had been certified as insane under the Mental Treatment Act and no order for the discharge of such person under that Act has thereafter been made; or that such party, though not so certified as aforesaid, was by reason of unsoundness of mind incapable of understanding the nature of the ceremony; or

Cap. 103

(d) that the parties were within the prohibited degrees of consanguinity or affinity; or

(e) that subject to the provisions of section 8 of the Births, Marriages and Deaths Registration Act, the marriage was not celebrated in due form.

Cap. 171

Decree of nullity in respect of voidable marriage

4 of 1968, Sched

13. - (1) A marriage is voidable and upon the application of the petitioner the Court shall pronounce a decree of nullity in respect thereof, if it shall be proved –

(a) that the marriage has not been consummated owing to the incapacity or wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage; or

(b) that either party to the marriage was, at the time of the marriage, a person of unsound mind within the meaning of the Mental Treatment Act, or subject to recurrent fits of insanity or epilepsy; or

(c) that the respondent was, at the time of the marriage, suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form; or

Cap. 103

(d) that the respondent was, at the time of her marriage, pregnant by some other person than the petitioner:

Provided that in the cases specified in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d), the Court shall not grant a decree unless it is satisfied –

(i) that the petitioner was, at the time of the marriage, ignorant of the facts alleged;

(ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year of the date of the marriage; and

(iii) that sexual intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the existence of grounds for a decree.

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided in pursuance of paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of the last foregoing subsection shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as validating any marriage which is by law void but with respect to which a decree of nullity has not been granted.

Facts to be stated in petition

First Schedule

Form E

14.-(1) Every petition for nullity of marriage shall state shortly the material facts relied upon and shall be in the Form E in the First Schedule hereto.

(2) Every such petition shall be verified by affidavit in the Form F in the First Schedule hereto.

Form F

(3) A copy of the petition shall be served upon the respondent personally unless the Court shall otherwise direct and such service shall be verified by affidavit in Form G in the First Schedule hereto.

Form G

Evidence in nullity proceedings

15. In any proceedings for nullity of marriage, evidence on the question of sexual capacity shall be heard in camera, unless in any case the Court is satisfied that in the interests of justice any such evidence ought to be heard in open Court.

PART IV JUDICIAL SEPARATION

Decree for judicial separation

16. - (1) A petition for judicial separation may be presented to the Court either by the husband or the wife on any grounds on which a petition for divorce might have been presented under the provisions of this Act and the procedure to be followed and the duty of the Court on the presentation of a petition for divorce, and the circumstances in which such a petition shall or may be granted or dismissed shall apply in like manner to a petition for judicial separation.

(2) Where the Court in accordance with the provisions of this section grants a decree for judicial separation it shall no longer be obligatory for the petitioner to cohabit with the respondent.

(3) The Court may, on the application by petition of the husband or wife against whom a decree for judicial separation has been made, and on being satisfied that the allegations contained in the petition are true, reverse the decree at any time after the making thereof, on the ground that it was obtained in the absence of the person making the application, or, if desertion was the ground of the decree, that there was reasonable cause for the alleged desertion.

(4) The Forms A, B and C in the First Schedule hereto required to be used in relation to the presentation of a petition for divorce shall be used in relation to the presentation of a petition for judicial separation with such modifications as the context requires.

Form A, Form B, Form C, First Schedule

Divorce proceedings after grant of judicial separation

17.- (1) A person shall not be prevented from presenting a petition for divorce, or the Court from pronouncing a decree of divorce by reason only that the petitioner has at any time been granted a judicial separation upon the same or substantially the same facts as those proved in support of the petition for divorce.

(2) On any such petition for divorce, the Court may treat the decree of judicial separation as sufficient proof of the adultery, desertion, or other ground on which it was granted, but the Court shall not pronounce a decree of divorce without receiving evidence from the petitioner.

(3) For the purposes of any such petition for divorce, a period of desertion immediately preceding the institution of proceedings for a decree of judicial separation shall, if the parties have not resumed cohabitation and the decree has been continuously in force since the granting thereof, be deemed immediately to precede the presentation of the petition for divorce.

PART V GENERAL

Damages

18. - (1) A husband may, on a petition for divorce, or judicial separation claim damages from any person on the ground of adultery with the wife of the petitioner.

(2) The Court may direct in what manner the damages recovered are to be paid or applied.

Court may commit for non-payment

19. Where any person condemned in damages under the preceding section fails to pay at the time or in the manner ordered by the Court, whether execution has been issued or not, the Court may commit that person to prison for such period of imprisonment not exceeding six months as it may think fit.

Costs

20. In any proceedings taken pursuant to this Act, for divorce, nullity or judicial separation, the Court may make such orders as to the payment of costs as it thinks fit.

Custody and maintenance of children and maintenance of wife

21. In any proceedings for divorce, nullity or judicial separation, the Court may make such orders as appear just and necessary with respect to the custody, maintenance and education of the children, the marriage of whose parents is the subject of the proceedings, and the maintenance of the wife.

Proof of service in absence of party

22. The Court shall not in the absence of a respondent or co-respondent proceed to hear any evidence in proof of the grounds of a petition until proof of service of such petition is first given to the Court.

Fees

*4 of 1968, Sched
9 of 1976, s. 2
LN 46A of 1978
Second Schedule*

23. The fees contained in the Second Schedule hereto shall be the prescribed fees to be paid under this Act until altered, amended, revoked or added to by notice by the Minister with the assent of the Chief Justice.

Rules

*4 of 1968, Sched
LN 46A of 1978*

24. The Minister with the assent of the chief justice may make such rules as may be necessary for carrying out the purposes of this Act.
